

DISCIPLINARY REGULATIONS & PROCEDURES & INTEGRITY FRAMEWORK 2025

REVIEWED MARCH 2025

1. OVERVIEW OF DISCIPLINARY FRAMEWORK

- 1.1. Matters ordinarily dealt with by the appointed referee issuing cautions (i.e. yellow cards) or expulsions (i.e. red cards) in response to words or actions by players and team officials participating in the match are classed as disciplinary matters.
- 1.2. A referee has the power to issue cautions and/or expulsions, for reasons consistent with those outlined in Law 12 of the Laws of the Game.
- 1.3. Football Far North Coast (as the Competition Administrator), or its agent, has the authority (and is obliged to act accordingly), to impose sanctions (i.e. suspensions), against participants, (being players and team officials), who are issued a red card and those who accumulate the number of cautions disclosed within these regulations that ignite a suspension being imposed against such participant(s).
- 1.4. Football Far North Coast (FFNC or otherwise known as the Zone or Competition Administrator) adheres to the general principles, procedures and scope, outlined within the Football Australia (FA) National Disciplinary Regulations (refer link below that was last updated August 2023 and remains valid for 2025, unless otherwise advised);

2. DEFINITIONS

- 2.1. A disciplinary matter is ordinarily a consequence of a decision made by a referee (who has been appointed to a sanctioned fixture), to issue a yellow card (i.e. caution) or a red card (i.e. expulsion) to a player or team official who is participating in such fixture.
- 2.2. An allegation consists of a claim being made by an individual(s) or a member club, that behaviour (being words and or actions) within a football environment, are inappropriate and otherwise considered to be offensive;
- 2.3. An allegation made against an individual or a member club, does not immediately require (and may not allow) the Competition Administrator (or its nominee), to take action.
- 2.4. An allegation made against an individual player or team official involved in a specific fixture, does not immediately require a match official to take action. A match official is authorised to respond to matters, immediately before, during or immediately after a match that they are officiating, if they see or hear anything that they deem to be an offence as prescribed as an offence within Law 12.
- 2.5. An allegation made against a player or a team official, regardless of whether it is or is not actioned by a Red Card or Yellow Card being issued, may be investigated and dealt with (at the absolute discretion of the Competition Administrator or its nominee), within the terms outlined in the Football Australia Code of Conduct and Ethics Regulations.
- 2.6. An allegation made against any participant or spectator, whether they are registered or not, may be investigated and dealt with (at the absolute discretion of the Competition Administrator or its nominee), within the terms outlined in the Football Australia Code of Conduct and Ethics Regulations.
- 2.7. A Yellow Card, (when issued) is a response to a minor offence that is classified as a cautionable offence as specified in Law 12 of the Laws of the Game

- 2.8. A Red Card, (when issued) is a response to a serious infringement of the Laws of the Game, that requires the participant receiving the card, to leave the vicinity of the field of play;
- 2.9. A participant (in relation to Disciplinary Regulations), means a registered player or team official;
- 2.10. A participant has a broader definition within the scope of the National Code of Conduct and Ethics Regulations and includes any person deemed to have committed an offence within a football environment. Each member club is fundamentally responsible for the behaviour of its members and patrons. A member club may be held accountable for behaviour that is inappropriate and may be sanctioned accordingly, if found to be complicit in such behaviour occurring or it is concluded that the club failed to reasonably respond to prevent or mitigate the behaviour from occurring.
- 2.11. A sanction imposed, means a suspension that prohibits a specific participant from acting in any role until the sanction has been extinguished in full;
- 2.12. A fixture means a match/game including a competition fixture or friendly that is sanctioned by the zone.
- 2.13. An appeal is a written objection lodged to a sanction that is imposed beyond the minimum sanction for an offence (as defined in the Table of offences and sanctions disclosed in these regulations) or in response to a claim of mistaken identity.
- 2.14. Right to Be Heard provides an opportunity for a participant to make a submission (ordinarily in writing), to offer their version of an alleged incident/offence.
- 2.15. Mandatory suspension means that an immediate suspension of ONE (1) match, is ignited against a participant (being a player or team official), when a Red Card has been issued against them and this forms a component of whatever severity of sanction is imposed;
- 2.16. Minimum Sanction refers to the lowest level of severity of a suspension imposed in accordance with the schedule of sanctions for various offences.

3. LAWS OF THE GAME

- 3.1. Laws of the Game apply as specified by Fédération Internationale de Football Association (FIFA) and updated annually: <https://www.theifab.com/#!/laws>;
- 3.2. Law 5 defines the scope of disciplinary authority that each individual centre referee has when officiating.
- 3.3. The authority of a referee exists during the period immediately before, during and immediately after the fixture that they officiate.

The role of a referee (or match official) concludes when they lodge a send-off report, unless specifically requested by a Determining Authority, to provide more information about the send-off or (where applicable), post send-off allegations;

6. DISCIPLINARY PROCESS OVERVIEW

- 6.1. Match Officials make decisions during sanctioned fixtures to which they are appointed, consistent with the Laws of the Game;
- 6.2. A participant who is issued a Red Card is immediately required to stand-down from all roles until an assessment has been made by the Competition Administrator of what sanction is to be imposed;
- 6.3. A Send-off Report is submitted by Match Officials in instances where a Red Card has been issued;
- 6.4. An assessment of relevant report(s) is considered by the Competition Administrator, including validity of the Red Card offence as recorded by the referee and reconciliation with details on the match sheet records;
- 6.5. An assessment of any verbal or written submissions from accused person or Body (i.e. definition of the Right to be Heard) is made by the Competition Administrator;
- 6.6. An assessment of any other report or information relevant to disciplinary matters is made by the Competition Administrator. FFNC does not provide a send-off report (or incident report) to a participant who has been issued a red card (or their club), however consistent with FA Regulations, FFNC will provide reasonable details in response to a sanction that is imposed.

- 6.7. A sanction is imposed (summarily by the Administrator unless referred to an Independent Arbitrator)*;
- (i) (*) A participant who is issued a Red Card is immediately required to stand-down from all roles until an assessment has been made by the Competition Administrator of what sanction is to be imposed;
 - (ii) A participant who is issued a Red Card will be required to serve a suspension that cannot be less than a minimum of ONE (1) match, notwithstanding any additional sanction(s) imposed (Unless an appeal is lodged and is upheld on the basis of mistaken identity).
- 6.8. The sanction is advised in writing to the accused party (i.e. line of communication is to the participant's applicable member club, that must provide it member(s) with a copy of such documentation);
- 6.9. An optional appeal can be lodged (where sanction is imposed above the applicable minimum sanction) and if submitted within seven (7) working days of the sanction notice being issued by the zone (or its nominee) and where any applicable payment for lodging such an objection, has been made;
- 6.10. An optional grievance can be lodged where an objection is submitted in writing from the person who has been sanctioned, had their appeal dismissed and who wants to pursue a further appeal. This must be lodged within seven (7) working days This is the final option for an appeal to proceed and the determination from a grievance is binding on all parties involved in the process;

7. SCOPE OF SANCTIONS

- 7.1. All sanctions will be applied in accordance with the schedule of sanctions disclosed in these Regulations, noting that the schedule of sanctions refers to minimum sanctions that exist for each offence, however a sanction may be applied above a defined minimum sanction;
- 7.2. The Determining Authority is empowered to impose penalties on player and/or team officials within the Zone, in any combination of the listed penalty limits, as is determined necessary to ensure compliance with the Disciplinary Regulations and applicable matters as disclosed by Football Far North Coast.

Refer Clause 11 (specifically 11.10 to 11.13) FA Disciplinary Regulations. This option is at the absolute discretion of the Determining Authority and should ordinarily be contingent upon an assessment concluding that there is sound reasons for providing a concession to an immediate requirement for the participant to be suspended from all game day football activities for a period at least equal to the minimum sanction prescribed in the schedule of offences and minimum sanctions.

 - 8.3.3 FFNC will notify the participant’s member club if it is identified that a referee made an error in the recording of a yellow card. FFNC will do so at the earliest opportunity after the error has been identified and ordinarily within three (3) working days.

INTEGRITY FRAMEWORK

18 OVERVIEW

It is important to recognise the distinction between disciplinary matters and integrity matters.

Disciplinary matters are offences made by participants in their role as a player or team official during a match that are subsequently actioned by a referee issuing a caution (i.e. yellow card) or expulsion (i.e. red card).

Allegations made against any person (whether a player or team official who participate in any match), or a Body, (being a member club), that are that are not subject to action by a referee during a match or that were not actioned by the referee, may be investigated and dealt with in accordance consistent with the scope of relevant matters outlined in Football's Integrity Framework.

The Competition Administrator (or its agent), has the power to initiate reasonable enquiries and to subsequently investigate serious allegations made known to Football Far North Coast, that potentially identify activity that is in breach of any aspect of the Football Australia National Code of Conduct and Ethics Regulations (including Clause 2 as shown below);

- 18.1 Matters ordinarily dealt with by the appointed referee issuing cautions (i.e. yellow cards) or expulsions (i.e. red cards) in response to words or actions by players and team officials participating in the match are disciplinary matters.
- 18.2 A referee has the power to issue cautions and/or expulsions, for reasons consistent with those outlined in Law 12 of the Laws of the Game. This authority exists for the period of a match and is primarily excised in response to cautionable or expulsion offences by the use of yellow and/or red cards.
- 18.3 The authority of a referee (or assistant referee), beyond the period of a match, is limited to reporting allegations and they cannot issue a yellow or red card to any player or team official after the conclusion of a match. This means when players and team officials have exited the field of play (including the technical area).
- 18.4 A match official can submit a written report (being an Incident Report), if they personally see or hear an incident that is alleged to be an offence beyond the conclusion of a match. This is the mechanism for making an allegation against a player or team official for any off field incident that cannot be otherwise actioned by issuing a yellow or red card.
- 18.5 A match official can submit a written report (being an Incident Report), if they personally see or hear an incident that is alleged to be an offence prior to, during or beyond the conclusion of a match, against an individual or member club. This is the mechanism for making an allegation against an individual or club, for any off field incident that cannot be otherwise actioned by issuing a yellow or red card.
- 18.6 A participant has a broader definition within the scope of the National Code of Conduct and Ethics Regulations and includes any person deemed to have committed an offence within a football environment. Each member club is fundamentally responsible for the behaviour of its members and patrons. A member club may be held accountable for behaviour that is inappropriate and may be sanctioned accordingly, if found to be complicit in such behaviour occurring or it is concluded that the club failed to reasonably respond to prevent or mitigate the behaviour from occurring.
- 18.7 A sanction imposed, means a suspension that prohibits a specific participant from acting in any role until the sanction has been extinguished in full;
- 18.8 An allegation consists of a claim being made by an individual(s) or a member club, that behaviour (being words and or actions) within a football environment, are inappropriate and otherwise considered to be offensive;

These Regulations and Procedures are supplementary to the FA National Disciplinary Regulations and relevant NNSWF guidelines.

- 18.9 An allegation made against an individual or a member club, does not immediately require (and may not allow) the Competition Administrator (or its nominee), to take action.
- 18.10 An allegation made against an individual player or team official involved in a specific fixture, does not immediately require a match official to take action. A match official is authorised to respond to matters, immediately before, during or immediately after a match that they are officiating, if they see or hear anything that they deem to be an offence as prescribed as an offence within Law 12.
- 18.11 An allegation made against a player or a team official, regardless of whether it is or is not actioned by a Red Card or Yellow Card being issued, may be investigated and dealt with (at the absolute discretion of the Competition Administrator or its nominee), within the terms outlined in the Football Australia Code of Conduct and Ethics Regulations.
- 18.12 An allegation made against any participant or spectator, whether they are registered or not, may be investigated and dealt with (at the absolute discretion of the Competition Administrator or its nominee), within the terms outlined in the Football Australia Code of Conduct and Ethics Regulations.
- 18.13 Football Far North Coast (as the Competition Administrator), or its agent, has the authority (and is obliged to act accordingly), to impose sanctions (including suspensions against participants) and member clubs, where breaches of the National Code of Conduct and Ethics Regulations are proven.
- 18.14 Football Far North Coast (FFNC or otherwise known as the Zone or Competition Administrator) adheres to the general principles, procedures and scope, outlined within the Football Australia (FA) National Code of Conduct Regulations (refer link below that was last updated April 2021 and remains valid for 2025, unless otherwise advised);
- 18.15 Spectators are expected to adhere to standards of behaviour appropriate as outlined in the Football Australia Spectator Code of Behaviour
